TAX PREPARATION AGREEMENT

We appreciate the opportunity of working with you and advising you regarding your federal and state individual or business income taxes. In order to ensure an understanding of our mutual responsibilities, we ask all our clients for whom returns are prepared (individual or business) to confirm the following arrangement(s).

We will prepare your federal and state income tax returns. These returns will be prepared from information which you will furnish to our firm. We will not audit or make any other verification on the data you submit, although it may be necessary to ask you for clarification of some of the information. We will furnish you with an outline checklist to help you in gathering the necessary information (please note this list is not comprehensive, and any forms you are unsure about should be submitted to us prior to our firm preparing your tax forms). In the event of an audit by a taxing authority, you will be required to provide the documentation for all items in question to the taxing authority. It is the taxpayer's (you) responsibility to obtain/retain all documents that supports your tax liability. This agreement and the Arbitration agreement covers all prior tax returns that this firm has prepared for you as well as the current year.

It is your responsibility to provide all the information required for the preparation of a complete and accurate tax return. You should retain all documents, cancelled checks and other data that form the basis of income and deductions for at least a period of the statute of limitations (typically 3 years for federal and 3 years for the State of California, but can be unlimited in certain situations). You should also retain documents that support items carried over into open years, such as cost basis information, nondeductible IRA's, net operating losses, etc. This information may be necessary to provide the accuracy and completeness of the returns to a taxing authority. You have the final responsibility for the income tax returns; therefore, you should review them carefully before you sign them. If for some reason you believe your returns have not been received by the taxing authorities, (i.e., didn't get your refund or they haven't cashed your check) then please contact our office or go online at www.irs.gov. We also have icons on our web site to take you directly to the IRS/State. www.lodge-co.com

Our work in connection with the preparation of your income tax returns does not include any procedures designed to discover errors or omissions by you, fraud, misrepresentations, defalcations and/or other irregularities, should any exist. We will render such accounting and bookkeeping assistance as determined to be necessary only for preparation of your income tax returns. It is your responsibility to provide our firm with accurate, truthful information for use in preparing your tax forms. It is your responsibility to review the tax return and ask any questions prior to signing the tax return under penalty and perjury.

Reasonable Belief – a tax practitioner may not sign a return as a preparer unless the practitioner determines that the return contains a reasonable belief that the tax treatment of the position is more likely than not the proper tax treatment. The reasonable belief standard met, the practitioner will advise the client of any opportunity to avoid the accuracy-related penalty in section 6662 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 by adequately disclosing the position of the requirements for adequate disclosure.

We will use our professional judgment in resolving questions where the tax law is unclear, or where there may be conflicts between the taxing authority's interpretation of the law and other supportable positions. Unless otherwise instructed by you, we will resolve such questions whenever possible.

The law provides various penalties that may be imposed when taxpayers understate their tax liability. The Internal Revenue Service also imposes penalties upon taxpayers and return preparers for failure to observe due care in reporting for income tax returns.

Your returns may be selected for review for any reason by the taxing authorities. Any proposed adjustments by the examining agent are subject to certain rights of appeal. In the event of such government tax examination(s) we will be available upon request to help you resolve these issues. However, such assistance is not included in your tax preparation fee and we will render additional fees for the time and expenses incurred on a case by case basis. Moreover, the taxing authorities may correspond with you regarding your tax return. You agree to timely forward this correspondence to our firm for review and analysis. Additional fees may be charged depending upon the response required.

Our fees are based upon the complexity of the return and a standard rate schedule for the type of forms required to be filed. You will never be charged additional fees. Payment for services is due prior to our firm filing your taxes.

Unless otherwise specified by you in writing (email is sufficient), we will create/generate a PIN for you that will be used as your signature on your tax returns (only applies to electronically filed tax forms – as of January 2011, ALL returns prepared MUST be e-filed unless mail-in is chosen by client. This firm does not e-file at this time and require for you to sign an opt out form, so we may mail in the form with original signatures.

If the foregoing fairly sets forth your understanding, please sign in the space indicated. And thank you for your trust in our firm’s professional tax preparation services.

Acknowledged,
