Dear Employer:

The person presenting this certificate has earned the National Professional Certification in Mediation® by passing an industry-driven assessment. This new Professional Certification is based upon national skill standards recognized by high-performance employers from the Alternative Dispute Resolution industry. The assessment required this certified individual to respond to real-world job-related situations, using knowledge and skills widely recognized as important in high-conflict arenas.

Certification recognizes demonstrated mediation knowledge and skills-which translates into improved employee relations and productivity for you, the employer. Thousands of employees, from frontline workers to managers and trainers, representing hundreds of companies and various court systems, identified the performance levels for these mediation skills. Many industries including, public service companies, military installations and government offices, have recognized the value of these mediation skill standards and this certification.

We hope you will recognize this individual's demonstrated mediation knowledge and skills, as well as the professional initiative and investment in alternative dispute resolution and related careers.
